

> SANDALS GOLF & COUNTRY CLUB

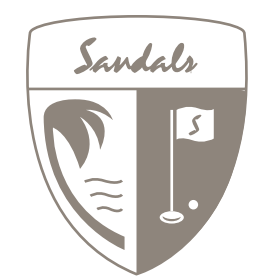

> The Sandals Golf & Country Club is a 18-hole resort-style course. Designed by P.K. Saunders, the course opened in 1951 and was added to the Sandals family in 1992. The layout offers challenges such as gently undulating fairways and compact greens that demand precision. Among its other facilities, Sandals boasts a shagging area and practice putting green. Sandals Golf & Country Club will be expanding its offerings beyond that of a Resort Golf Course and has reduced its membership rates. The club continues to periodically rehabilitate tees, fairways and greens to maintain its 4-star Golf Digest PGA Championship Golf Course rating.
